CONTINUING SERIES: THE MOST COMMON INJURIES IN PERSONAL INJURY LAW

Every month this year in the newsletter, we will highlight an injury that we see most often with our clients.

Traumatic Brain Injuries

When a severe accident physically traumatizes the brain, the resulting injuries are often devastating. The harm a person could suffer from this type of injury is extensive and often leads to high medical bills, time lost at work, and significant changes in quality of life. A TBI occurs when there is a disruption of the normal functionality of the brain. It is typically caused by a major blow to the head, but it can also be caused by penetrating trauma to the brain, an injury that can cause extremely serious harm.

Serious trauma to the head may cause a wide range of symptoms, some of which may be permanent or long-lasting. Symptoms include, but are not limited to:

- Confusion
- Memory loss
- Problems with sleep
- Headaches and migraines
- Loss of cognitive function
- Paralysis
- Death

Traumatic brain injuries may not appear right away after an accident, so immediate medical care is an important part of preventing severe harm.

A traumatic brain injury can occur as the result of any number of different causes. Some of the most common we encounter include:

- Motor vehicle accidents
- Physical assaults

- Whiplash
- Medical negligence
- Slips and falls
- Defective products
- Falling debris

When the injury is the result of another's negligence, significant financial compensation may be available to the plaintiff. Speaking with a dedicated injury lawyer can help you understand your rights following a traumatic brain injury.

PONY EXPRESS

If you've called The Warren Firm in the last year, you've probably spoken to our fabulously friendly receptionist, Micheala. When Micheala is not in the office, she can often be found riding her horse, Legacy. When she's not joy riding or working her cows with Legacy, she rides every so often to the post office to drop off mail!

WRESTLE MANIA

We recently traveled to Lynchburg for another wrestling tournament for our son. We had a great dinner at The Craddock Terry Hotel. It's actually an old shoe factory that was built in 1901. Really interesting history and cool vibe. The best part of the weekend was our son coming in 2nd out of 22 wrestlers! Really proud of him and his hard work and perseverance.

"If I was injured in an accident in Virginia, I would call Vaden to handle the case on behalf of my family. I practiced law in Charlottesville for nearly a decade. Vaden is the most honest, hardworking and experienced personal injury lawyer I know."

– W.M. Lewis

PLEASE HELP OTHERS FIND US

If you have worked with The Warren Firm in the past, or know Vaden personally, we invite you to leave a review on Google. In this day and age, we recognize the best way for us to continue helping those suffering with a serious personal injury is to have five-star Google reviews for them to see online in their search.

11 Ways to Harm Your Case: Part Two

There can be many pitfalls in a personal injury case. Insurance companies will try many methods to deny your claim altogether or make the recovery as small as possible. Each month we will highlight something you should NOT do when it comes to working with insurance companies!

11 WAYS TO HARM YOUR PERSONAL INJURY CASE

2. Downplay your injuries

While you should never exaggerate the extent of your injuries, you should let the officer at the scene know that you are hurt. The investigating officer will put in his report whether anyone involved in the collision was injured. Later, the insurance company will use it against you if you neglected to tell the officer you were hurt.

WHAT NOT TO DO, SO FAR ...

1. Admit to any fault at the scene of the collision.
2. Downplay your injuries.

BESTS OF FEBRUARY

Check out these picks from our communications director, Brooke, and receptionist, Micheala:

Book

A Man Called Ove

I was absolutely late to the game on this fabulous read about the transformation of a curmudgeonly man that will have you laughing and crying. The movie adaptation is now out (A Man Called Otto)!

— Brooke

Amazon Purchase

LED Reflective Vest

I recently purchased this vest since it is dark outside so early. Great for runs or bike rides and easily rechargeable. Be as visible as possible out there on the roads!

— Brooke

Streaming Series

Limitless

I am a huge fan of this National Geographic series on Disney+ about the adventures of Chris Hemsworth.

— Micheala

We focus our practice on cases involving:

Personal Injury
Wrongful Death
Children's Injuries
Bicycle Accidents
Auto Accidents
